

PATIENT MARKETING

How do you add unique value *in a crowded healthcare market?

AGENCY MEDICAL MARKETING:

Introducing our patient marketing services.

Our goal is to help 1 million people by enhancing patient autonomy and ensure that individuals are not just recipients of care but active, informed participants in their health journey.

Do you struggle to differentiate your healthcare products and services in a crowded market place?

The most successful brands in healthcare focus on delivering unique value that speaks to the needs of their healthcare professionals. Initiatives that transcend product benefits and speak to the challenges of a healthcare institution help formulate unique selling propositions to support products and services.

Finding patients who need their services and helping them overcome barriers to treatment is the primary challenge of healthcare. AGENCY's patient marketing service allows you deliver unique added value to your customers through compliant initiatives that support your healthcare customers with compliant and effective patient marketing tools.

We're on a mission to change patient communication in healthcare. Will you join us?

Our patient marketing product range:

Direct-to-Patient Marketing Strategies: Craft targeted campaigns that reach patients directly, using digital and traditional channels to increase visibility and engagement.

Patient Content Creation: Develop, disseminate and support your clinics with patient-centric content that is directly informed by cutting-edge research from the University of Bath's "Painful Conversations" series, ensuring content that speaks to directly to people needs and helps them make informed decisions about your treatments.

Co-Marketing Strategies: Collaborate with healthcare providers to create co-marketing initiatives that enhance the visibility of treatments at clinics and healthcare facilities, aligning provider offerings with patient needs.
